An illustration of a man sitting on a boat, reading a book. The boat is filled with stacks of books. The background is a stylized sea of books, with a large, patchwork sail on the boat. The scene is set against a backdrop of green and yellow wavy lines, suggesting a sea of books. The man is wearing a dark shirt and is looking down at the book in his hands. The boat is a simple wooden vessel with a large, multi-colored sail. The overall style is that of a comic book or a children's illustration.
